MINISTERING THROUGH FAMILY HISTORY

Family history can open doors for ministering opportunities when it seems like nothing else will. Here are a few ideas you might try.

Teach ways to capture their own history through keeping a journal in a way they enjoy. Audio journal? Photo journal? Video logs? There are many options for those who don't prefer standard journal formats.

Go to the temple together to do ordinances for ancestors. Or offer to do ordinances for their family names if they have more than they can handle.

Get together to share family traditions.
